ABOUT THE GUILD

Our History

The Atlanta Business & Professional Guild was established in 1978, initially as a small association of mid-town-Atlanta area business owners. Since then, the Guild has evolved into an organization with a diverse membership drawn from throughout Metropolitan Atlanta. Like similar groups established in cities throughout the U.S., the AB&PG has become a recognized business organization respected not only in the community it seeks to serve, but also in the civil and political arenas of Atlanta as a whole. Over the years, the Guild has been an organizer or enthusiastic supporter of many community projects, services and organizations – including AID Atlanta, the Atlanta Gay Center, and the Atlanta AIDS Hospice Fund – and continues to be so today. The AB&PG was a primary proponent of GARD, a greater Atlanta Voter Registration Drive, and has worked in conjunction with the Mid-town Business Association on a project to beautify a section of Peachtree Street. In cooperation with local authorities, Guild members established "sensitization" programs for educating law enforcement agencies about the gay/lesbian community and its issues, and initiated similar "Corporate Outreach" programs with major local corporations. Guild programs and activities have attracted the attention of both local and national media. They have been reported by Newsweek, the San Francisco Examiner, CNN, CBS Radio (all national affiliates), in local newspapers and on local radio and TV stations.

With the growth of other gay and lesbian organizations in the Greater Atlanta area – many of them the "brain children" of former and current Guild members – the Guild has begun in recent years to shift its emphasis. Leaving the need for gay and lesbian Atlantans to express their political, and to some degree their social, sides to these other specifically defined organizations, the Guild has begun to focus its energies on one of its original mandates: the promotion of the business, professional and consumer interests of the gay/lesbian community. Looking to the future, the Guild seeks to remain a viable resource and outlet for its members and its community, cooperating with other organizations in their endeavors, while encouraging the gay/lesbian community to look to its members first for its consumer and business needs. By supporting its members and friends in our community, the Guild brings gays and lesbians together as an acknowledged economic force within the Greater Atlanta area.

Activities

Recognizing the diversity of its membership, the Guild offers its members a variety of activities. Monthly dinner meetings or social "networking" mixers are held to promote communication among Guild members, one of the primary aims of the organization. Meetings are used to discuss topics of interest to members, fostering both personal and professional enrichment. These meetings often feature guest speakers who are drawn both from Guild membership and from local or national resources. Members are encouraged to use these opportunities to voice their concerns on the topics of discussions and to share their experiences and expertise where appropriate.

Special events are held throughout the calendar year, ranging from potluck dinners and black-tie receptions to theatre nights and group attendance at community social, cultural and political events. With the assistance of other organizations, the Guild annually sponsors a 10K footrace, the Midtown Classic, a benefit for local charities. A formal Annual Awards Banquet, held in the first quarter of the year, is balanced by events like the very informal annual pool party and a year-end holiday party.

All Guild activities are organized and sponsored by committees in which all members are encouraged to participate. Guild committees include: Membership, Program, Special Events, Newsletter, Community Outreach/Advertising, Finance, Business Services, Legal and ad hoc committees for special functions.

Programs and Services

In addition to the social and networking opportunities presented by its monthly meetings, special events and committee involvement, the Guild offers its members a variety of advertising and promotional opportunities. Annually, the Guild publishes a community directory, listing and advertising member and non-member businesses as well as the sixty-plus gay and lesbian organizations serving Greater Atlanta. The directory is refined annually, and is getting better all the time. Combined circulation has exceeded 35,000 copies in recent years.

Members receive a newsletter which publicizes Guild and community events, offers professional advice and provides spotlights on member businesses, among other things. Advertising space is available for Guild members.

Guild members are also encouraged to use the Guild's mailing services to reach a targeted market for their products or services.

The Guild hosts an Annual Business Expo, a business fair for the promotion of community businesses and organizations. Members are provided space to set up displays to spotlight to the fairgoers the products and services provided by their companies. Past Expos have been well-attended and well-received.

In addition to the programs and services mentioned above, the Guild offers to members and non-members alike a growing referral service. This service is intended to bring together service providers and those seeking the services offered by Guild members. The Guild's Business Services Committee is also laying the foundation for new services and programs, including a members' Community Discount Program.

Membership Benefits

Guild Members are afforded specific benefits according to membership categories.

Business Enterprise Member –

Along with voting rights and receipt of the Guild Newsletter and special mailings, the BE Member is entitled to the following:

- Right for employees to join at a reduced rate
- Access to the Guild's Member Discount Program
- Free listing in Businesses Section of Directory
- Free listing in Products & Services Section of Directory
- Free inclusion as service provider in Guild Referral Service
- Reduced rate at annual Business Expo
- Use of Guild mailing services

Business Associate Member –

Along with voting rights, newsletters and special mailings, the BA Member receives:

- Access to discount program
- Free listing in Business Associates Section of Directory

Individual Member – Along with voting rights, newsletters and special mailings, the IN Member receives:

- Access to discount program
- Free listing in Professional Section of Directory

Community Liaison Member – This member has no voting rights, but receives newsletters and special mailings as well as:

- Free listing in Community Liaison Section of Directory

Full-time College Student – This category of membership provides the same benefits as the Individual Member Category.

Benefits are subject to change and, with the exception of voting rights, may be added, deleted or altered at the direction of the AB&PG Board of Directors.

Membership and Dues

Atlanta Business & Professional

Guild membership is open to business owners, professionals, and designated representatives of other organizations. Members are expected to conduct their business and professional endeavors with integrity, refraining from practices which discriminate with regard to race, religion, national origin, age, gender and sexual orientation. Acceptance as a member is contingent upon the approval of the AB&PG Board of Directors.

Five categories of membership are currently available:

Business Enterprise Member –

The preferred category for owners of sole proprietorships, partnerships or corporations. Annual dues are $40 or $20 depending on the time of year in which application is made.

Business Associate Member –

Available only to employees of an existing Business Enterprise Member. Annual dues are $10 regardless of the month joining.

Individual Member – Available to individuals who are not employees of an existing Business Enterprise Member and/or who wish to join as an individual. Annual Dues are $25 or $12.50 depending on the date of application.

Community Liaison Member –

Available to an individual representative of a non-profit gay, lesbian, community or civic organization. This is a non-voting membership category, available to such organizations for $5 per year.

Full-time College Student – Available to full-time college or university-level students. Annual dues are $10 at any time of year.

Please Join Today! To receive an application for membership, simply complete the request below, and mail it to the Guild Office. If you need any assistance in completing the request or application itself, or if you would like more information about the Guild, please call us at (404) 662-4202.

All inquiries, correspondence and applications for membership in the Atlanta Business & Professional Guild are received and maintained in confidence.

MEETING INFORMATION

THE AB&PG meets the second Tuesday of each month. Meetings typically begin with cocktails at 6:30 p.m. If the meeting includes dinner, it is served at 7:30 p.m. Guest speakers follow dinner.

Second Tuesday meetings for 1990 are as follows:

January 9th	July 10th
February 13th	August 14th
March 13th	September 11th
April 10th	October 9th
May 8th	November 13th
June 12th	December 11th

NOTE: Reservations are required for all dinner meetings and may be made by phoning the Guild office at 622-4202. Those who appear for dinner without advance reservations may be refused dinner. No-show reservations will be billed.

Guests are always welcome!

How to use this Directory

The 1990 AB&PG Community Directory offers you the reader a variety of options for locating needed products, services, advertisers or community information.

- Option 1 – For quick reference, review our table of contents.
- Option 2 – If you know the type of product or service you need, refer to the Index of Products and Services on page 3.
- Option 3 – If you know the name of an advertiser use the Advertiser's Index on page 4.
- Option 4 – If you would like more information concerning the Guild (pg. 5), other community organizations and services (pg. 50), or your city, county, state and federal representatives (pg. 54), it's all here for you.
- Option 5 – If you do not find a listing or an advertisement for the product or service you need, please call the Guild office at (404) 662-4202 and take advantage of our ongoing Referral Service.

We've tried to make this year's directory more informative and more useful. We hope you find it helpful and suited to your needs. Suggestions for improvements are always welcome.
